AIIM Columbia River Chapter

The AIIM Columbia River Chapter will host a presentation covering current trends and developments in applications of electronic capture. Within the growth and complexity of ECM, digital capture remains the heart of effective business content solutions, providing for the efficient creation of electronic records and assets.

Al Smith, Records Officer at the Oregon Public Employees Retirement System (PERS) will discuss how his organization uses capture for workflow and records management. Additional presentations by local experts from EMC Corporation and Xerox Global Services will cover the structure and design of industry recognized capture solutions and provide attendees with an effective path forward and strategy in building digital capture solutions.

Please join us for an informative discussion on Capture methods and solutions used in both private sector and public sector applications.
